

RESTORE JUSTICE

The average number of previous offences committed resulting in a conviction or caution<sup>(1)</sup> for those who were sentenced to immediate custody in the 12 months ending March 2019, by sentence length and gender

Immediate Custody<sup>(2)</sup>	Average number of previous offences resulting in a conviction or caution
	Female	Male
(i) up to and excluding six months	60.4	56.6
(ii) six months up to and excluding 12 months	38.3	35.6
(iii) 12 months up to and excluding 2 years	23.6	30.9
(iv) 2 years up to and excluding 4 years	22.7	29.4
(v) 4 years up to and excluding 8 years	17.8	24.2
(vi) 8 years up to excluding 20 years	12.2	18.2
(vii) 20 years and over	29.3	15.6
(viii) life imprisonment	18.1	19.9

Source: Ministry of Justice extract of the Police National Computer

Please note:

<sup>1</sup> figures are counts of offences, including both the primary and the non primary offences, that resulted in conviction or caution.

<sup>2</sup> figures excluded the imprisonment for the Public Protection cases.

<sup>3</sup> All data have been taken from the MoJ extract of the Police National Computer. This includes details of all convictions, cautions, reprimands or warnings and youth caution given for recordable offences (see www.legislation.gov.uk/ukxi/200/1139/schedule/made for definition). The figures are subject to change while the more updated information is available as the PNC is an operational live database.